REAL Results!

Kelly Anderson's Management Training and Coaching Program has helped fleets increase revenue by 10% with the same number of trucks, reduce turnover by 20%-35%, change acidic cultures, and create top level managers at every level of the company.

In the past twenty years Kelly has worked with hundreds of great managers to teach them how to develop a strategic plan for personal and organizational growth and proactively address issues to grow beyond them.

In this program, Kelly Anderson coaches managers on an on-going basis to incrementally increase their management, leadership, and strategic planning skills.

Scheduled over a twelve-month period, this program consists of one group training session per quarter and a private coaching session with each participant on the non-seminar months. Through these sessions, Kelly Anderson helps managers personalize and implement the principles and techniques taught during group seminars.
