

Ronald Breau

Ronald Breau is well known in the trucking industry for his expertise in DOT compliance, hours of service, IRP and IFTA filings, CSA and DataQ monitoring. With 30 years' experience under his belt while employed with the Missouri Trucking Association Ron saw the inception of most of these programs and has been involved from the ground floor.

In 2002 Ron received his certification as a Director of Safety by the North American Transportation Management Institute and in 2004 he was certified as an instructor for NATMI.

Ron has established relationships with federal and state agencies all over the country while working with MoTA members as they sought resolutions to everyday and not-so-everyday issues with their companies.

In addition to his industry credentials Ron has a Bachelor's of Science Degree in Accounting from Lincoln University with a minor in Business Administration.
